The insurance policies agreed on the basis of this contract qualify by law as independent contracts.

Duties of disclosure prior to the agreement

We provide insurance coverage in reliance upon the truthful and full disclosure of all circumstances relevant to the making of the contract and the assumption of the risk to be insured. The insured party is obligated to notify us of any risks of which he is aware, which are relevant to our decision to enter into the agreed policy, and about which we had inquired in textual form. If the insured party fails to honour this disclosure duty, we may withdraw from the contract and any obligation to provide benefits, or we may cancel or alter the contract. This shall apply particularly to disclosure of risks.

For further information, please read the instructions entitled "Separate notification in accordance with § 19 (5) of the German Insurance Contract Law (VVG) about the consequences of non-compliance with the duty of pre-agreement disclosure", which we provide prior to application.

Declaration of consent | Declaration on data processing

I. Significance of this declaration and right of revocation

We, Mannheimer Versicherung AG, require your personal data, particularly to assess the insurable risk (risk assessment), to prevent abuse of insurance, to review our liability, to advise you and provide you with information as well as generally for the purpose of processing the application, contract and insurance benefits.

Personal data may be collected, processed or used as per currently applicable data protection regulations (use of data) provided the regulations allow or require such, or provided the person concerned has effectively consented to such.

According to the German Federal Data Protection Law (BDSG) the use of your general personal data (e.g., age or address) is permitted where it serves a specific purpose covered by contractual agreement or quasi-contractual bond of trust (§ 28 (1) No. 1 BDSG). The same applies if it is necessary to safeguard the legitimate interests of the responsible agency and there is no cause to assume that the defensible interests of the person concerned in preventing processing or use of the data outweigh these interests. In practice the application of these regulations often calls for a comprehensive and time-consuming review of the individual case. This can be dispensed with if this declaration of consent has been signed. This declaration of consent also allows for use of data in eventualities that are not covered by the provisions of the Federal Data Protection Law (cf. Clause II).

This declaration of consent takes effect from the moment the application is made. It applies independently of whether an insurance agreement is reached. You are free to fully or partially revoke this declaration of consent with future effect at any time.

II. Declaration on the use of your general personal data

I hereby consent to my general personal data being used in accordance with the principles of data economy and data reduction (as stipulated by the German Data Protection Law)

- for the purposes of risk assessment, of contract processing and of reviewing liability by Mannheimer Versicherung AG.
- for the purpose of risk assessment through data exchange with a previous insurer as named by me in my application.
- for the purpose of jointly administering data collection by the companies of the Mannheimer Group (on request we will gladly provide a complete list of all companies belonging to the Group) in order to quickly, effectively and economically process your application, contract and claims (e.g., correct allocation of my correspondence or premium payments). These data collections contain data such as name, address, date of birth, customer ID No., insurance policy number, account number, bank sort code, nature of existing policies, and other contact details.

- for the purposes of risk assessment and processing of reinsurance. This takes place through transfer to reinsurers for their use in examining or insuring my insured risk. Reinsurance through domestic and international reinsurance providers serves to balance the risks assumed by the insurer, and is therefore also in the interest of the policyholder. In certain cases reinsurers avail of other reinsurers, to which they will – if necessary – likewise pass on the relevant data.
- by other companies/persons within and outside of the Mannheimer Group, to whom the insurer entrusted certain tasks to be dealt with partially or in full. The services of these companies/persons are used in order to ensure that the processing of applications, contracts and claims is as fast, effective and economical as possible. This does not involve an extension of the purposes of data use. The entrusted companies/persons will be obligated to observe appropriate standards of data protection when fulfilling the tasks assigned to them. More over, they are required to guarantee legally correct and restricted handling of the data and to adhere to the principle of confidentiality.
- for the purpose of preventing insurance abuse in the process of risk assessment and clarification of claims made on the policy through the use of a reference and information system provided by the insurance industry with data which the German Insurance Association (GDV) will encode on behalf of the insurer. On the basis of this, system personal data may be exchanged between two insurers in relation to a specific event.
- for the purposes of processing applications, contracts and claims in cases where Mannheimer Versicherung AG itself or through a credit agency (e.g. Bürgel, Infoscore, Creditreform, SCHUFA) seeks information about my general credit and payment history.
- for the purposes of providing advice and information about insurance and other financial services by Mannheimer Versicherung AG, other selected companies of the Mannheimer Group, or by my broker.
